CASE ONE OF SEVERAL, SAYS REVENUE COLLECTOR

Campaign to Wipe Out Illicit Traffic in Cocaine and Other Drugs Pushed

With revenue officers in possession of a prescription for a "rational cure" the opium habit, which, they claim, converts a user of the poppy drug into a morphine and cocaine fiend, Dr. K. F. Lie, well-known local Chinese physician, was arrested just before 1 o'clock today on a complaint sworn to by Collector J. F. Haley, charging him with five distinct violations of the Harrison Narcotic Act, which became effective on March 1, 1915. The prescription, according to the evidence of the federal sleuths, is one of Li's.

In the arrest of Dr. Li, Collector Haley and his deputies believe they their campaign to wipe out the illicit traffic in cocaine, morphine and other drgus in Honolulu, which campaign began with the taking effect of the Harrison act. When the campaign was begun, it was pointed out today. the drug stores in Honolulu showed monthly sale sof narcotics to habitues, amounting to $4000. Today $100 would cover the monthly sales.

Collector lines states that the Dr.
Li case is only one of several similar cases which may be opened up at any time. He points out that his office is in possession of Dr. Li's records of sales, many of which are alleged to be under fictitous names, and also a prescription known as a "rational # Papaaloa homester cure" for the opium habit. The first charge in the complaint against Dr. Li is that he dispensed 50 grains of cocaine to one Mazie (or Mayzie) Crystal and to other persons, wohse names have not been learned, without keeping a record of such sales. It is also alleged that he sold 40 grains of morphine sulphate to Mazie Crystal and others and recorded the sales under fictitious names.

Another charge against L is that he failed to keep his special stamp tax posted in a conspicuous place in his ofice and the fourth charge alleges that he failed to make an inventory of the narcotics which he had on hand

Developments of today are expected to mean war or peace between the two countries. This is probably the last day the Mexican de facto government will be allowed in which to act upon the peremptory demands of the United States for the release of the American troopers taken in the fight at Carrizal and now held in jail at Chihuahua.

Unless Carranza complies with the demand for the release of the 10th Cavalrymen, the president has made it known that he will act. If no reply arrives tonight from the Carranza government, or if the reply that does come is unsatisfactory, the president is determined to go to Congress, probably tomorrow, and ask authority to rescue the men by force of arms. That, it is admitted, means war with Mexico. Anything short of immediate release for the men is declared to be unsatisfactory.

Suggestions or proposals that there be mediation or negotiation over this matter of the release of the men will not be accepted, it is declared in high government circles.

The war department believes that it has perfected all arrangements to provide with victuals and clothing and with military equipment all the troops that will be used in the campaign, no matter how many or what disposition is made of them along the border.

One meager development of the day was the receipt of a telegraphic despatch by the state department from Special Agent Rogers in Mexico City. Agent Rogers telegraphed that he expected there would be a reply from Carranza today.
